Anderson/Jacobson in new.familysearch

This issue focuses on how to make sense of the family ancestry that appears in the new FamilySearch system.

I assume some of you have taken a look and possibly have had some questions. I have quite a bit to explain concerning what I have learned and what we all need to know about our information that is shown. So here goes...

Go to <https://new.familysearch.org>

If you have not ever been in the system, you need to create a new login and password. You do this by clicking on "Register for the new FamilySearch." Be sure to choose the LDS option. Fill out the form there and set up a login and password. You will need your church membership number and your birthdate. These systems are eventually going to be synchronized so that the same login and password works for all LDS websites (e.g. ward, mission application, etc.).

Log in and see your personal page.

Notice that there is a place called, "Sign in to Help Someone Else." This is where you can enter in as a family member or friend. Normally, you will not see any living people names in your area, except for your spouse and children - not even your children's spouses, so to help anyone else who does not share your ancestry, you will need to sign in as that person. You will need their membership number and their birthdate as well (if you wish to do this).

Click on "See Me and My Ancestors."

This is where the fun begins. You can go anywhere in the system here and see generations and families. There are a number of links, buttons, etc., where you can see things, add information and even submit names for temple work.

This, however, is also where a lot of confusion can come. This system contains a composite of many different kinds of records that the church has, all put together in one. The problem, is that in some areas, particularly in Scandinavia, there are many similar names, so the system brings a lot together that should not be brought together. They are always marked with symbols that indicate additional spouses, parents, etc. There are also cases where many extra people are added to families who do not belong.

The options you have for these extraneous, erroneous people are to dispute them, or the just select the one you want to use (mark as the one you always want to see), but there is no option for deleting them, even when they are so obviously incorrect. Hans Jacobson is listed with the correct wife, but they are listed with five additional children, all of which are listed as being born many years before he was born. When I look at the family, I cannot remove those names, only dispute their validity. In theory, you can contact the person who placed the records in the first place, and have them (if they agree with you) remove them from the family. In all cases, the "owner" is either the LDS church, or an unknown person, usually from the ancestral file. The system seems to place these people in families when there are similar names, because usually the details are very minimal (e.g. no exact birth date, and little else).

When there are multiple sets of parents listed for someone, for example. Anders Peter Anderson, I can mark the correct parents as the ones I wish to view, but it does not affect anyone else in our family. Therefore, I am going to work through all of the genealogy of the family and note these incorrect family members and indicate to you all how to set the correct people so you can see the correct ancestry as you go into the system.

The following are directions for what you do to make these corrections in your own new.familysearch.org directory. After that, and in future notices, I will show which ones you need to fix for your view.

1. Go into the Family Pedigree with Details view (possibly the default for you as you start - see "Change View" at the top left).

Click on the asterisk that appears to the left of the parents' names.

2. The following screen shows the parents listed for that person.

Choose the correct set of parents and click on "Always show the selected parents." then click Continue.

From now on those will be the correct parents for our family.

You probably need to do these in order, or else it may not be possible to easily find the correct people as you go up the pedigree chart. I hope to give them to you in proper order.

NOTE: before you start working on temple ordinances for those that show us as needing them, I have temple ordinance dates on pretty much everyone in the ancestry. It will take me a while, but I hope to get these people matched up with some other duplicates where the temple work has been done. Don't get too anxious yet. This is not where the work needs to be done, generally.

Here is the first batch of fixes, with detailed information on each set of parents.

1. Find Inger Sorensen. She is the mother of Maren Hansen, Eddie Mathias Jacobson's paternal grandmother.

The parents of Inger Sorensen (chosen parents marked with X) - Always show the selected parents.

	Soren (Ravn) Pedersen	1738	of Synge, Soro, Den.
	Malene Mogensdr	about 1735	of Lyngø, Soro, Den.
X	Soren Simonsen	about 1749	<Maalov, Cpnhgn, Denmark>
	Anna Hansen	about 1753	<Maalov, Cpnhgn, Denmark>

2. Find Anders Peter Anderson, the father of Sarah Delilah Anderson Jacobson.

The parents of Anders Peter Anderson

	Peder Christian Andersen	23 August 1819	Blokhus, Hune, Hjørring, Denmark
	Caroline (Karen) Lund (Nielsen)	7 December 1813	Saltum, Hjørring, Denmark
X	Jens Andersen	7 January 1822	Orslev, Kragerup, Holbaek, Denmark
	Ane Pedersen Andersen (Jorgensen)	18 March 1824	Sonderup, Aarslev, Denmark
	Peder Christian Andersen	23 August 1819	Blokhus, Hune, Hjørring, Denmark
	Ane Pedersen Andersen (Jorgensen)	18 March 1824	Sonderup, Aarslev, Denmark

3. Find Jens Anderson, father of Anders Peter Anderson.

The parents of Jens Anderson are probably pointing correctly, but to be sure, here is the choice:

X	Anders Larsen	1767	Sonderup, Soro, Denmark
	Sidse MARIE Knudsen	1789	Tuse, Holbaek, Denmark
	Anders Larsen	1767	Sonderup, Soro, Denmark
	Maren Knudsen Larsen
	Anders Larsen	about 1724	of Orslev, Soro, Denmark
	Anne Pedersen	1720	Orslev, Holbaek, Denmark

4. Find Ane Pedersen, mother of Anders Peder Anderson

The parents of Ane Pedersen are probably pointing correctly, but to be sure, here is the choice:

X	Peder Jorgensen	23 March 1794	Sonderup, (Aarslev), Soro, Denmark
	Kirsten Hansen	20 January 1799	Olsomagle, Copenhagen, Denmark
	Peder MADSEN	about 1642	Lumbsaas, Holbaek, Den.
	Kirsten Hansen	about 1684	Isterod, Frederiksborg, Denmark
	Peder Jensen	29 March 1767	Asminderod, Frederiksborg, Denmark
	Karen Marie Hansen	1766	Asminderod, Parrish, Frederiksborg, Denmark

5. Find Anders Larsen, father of Jens Andersen (person 3 above).

The parents of Anders Larsen

	Lars Andersen	4 March 1737	Nordrup, Soro, Dnmrk
	Anna Henrichsdatter	about 1739	of Sonderup, Soro, Den.
X	Lars Andersen	4 March 1737	Nordrup, Soro, Dnmrk
	Inger Christensen	about 1745
	Lars Mortensen
	Sidse Hansen Mortensen

The data is not all correct (he was born 6 Nov. 1740 in Sonderup, but I cannot fix that).

6. Find Sidse Marie Knudsen, mother of Jens Andersen (person 3).

The parents of Sidse Marie Knudsen are probably pointing correctly, but to be sure, here is the choice:

X	Knud Ibsen	about 1736	Tudse, Holbaek, Denmark
	Inger Larsdatter	about 1758	of Hagested, Hlbk, Dnmr
	Knud Ibsen	about 1736	Tudse, Holbaek, Denmark

	Lisbeth	about 1703	of Sonderup, Soro, Den.
	Jensen Anders
	Lisbeth
	anders jensen
	lisbeth

8. Find Ane Borgesen, maternal grandmother of Anders Larsen (#5 above)

The parents of Ane Borgesen are probably pointing correctly, but to be sure, here is the choice:

X	Borge Borgesen	about 1680	of Sorterup, Soro, Den.
	Inger	about 1683	of Sorterup, Soro, Den.
	Byrge Byrgesen
	[Unknown]

9. Find Peder Jorgensen, father of Ane Pedersen (#4 above)

The parents of Peder Jorgensen are probably pointing correctly, but to be sure, here is the choice:

X	Jorgen Christensen	25 March 1736	Aarslev,, Denmark
	Mette Pedersen	about 1768	Sonderup, Soro, Denmark
	Jorgen Jensen Sudere
	Maren Hansdr

10. Find Kirsten Hansen, mother of Ane Pedersen (#4 above)

The parents of Kirsten Hansen are probably pointing correctly, but to be sure, here is the choice:

X	Hans Jensen	11 March 1764	Hejninge, Soro, Denmark
	Ane Marie Andersdatter	about 1772	Hansted, Skanderborg, Den.
	Hans Larsen
	Karen Jensdr

11. Find Jorgen Christensen, father of Peder Jorgensen (#9 above)

The parents of Jorgen Christensen

	Christen Hansen	about 1740	Aarslev, Sonderup, Denmark
	Karen Olsen	about 1741	Aarslev, Sonderup, Denmark
	Christen Pedersen
	Inger Maria Jorgensdatter
X	Christensen Hansen	1710	Aarslev,, Denmark
	Karen Olsen	1714	, Aarslev, Denmark

12. Find Mette Pedersen, mother of Peder Jorgensen (#9 above)

The parents of Mette Pedersen

	Peder Madsen	1709	of Aarslev, Sonderup, Soro, Dnmr
	Anna Christensen	1740	Sonderup, Soro, Denmark
X	Peder Madsen	1730	Aarslev, Sonderup, Soro, Denmark
	Anna Christensen	1740	Sonderup, Soro, Denmark
	Peder Madsen	1730	Aarslev, Sonderup, Soro, Denmark
	Anna Christensen	1 November 1738	Lindrup,, Denmark
	Peter Madsen	1709	Soro, Denmark
	Anna Christensen	1740	Sonderup, Soro, Denmark
	Peder Madsen
	[Unknown]
	Peder Madsen
	[Unknown]

13. Find Hans Jensen, father of Kirsten Hansen (# 10 above)

The parents of Hans Jensen

	Jens Hansen	25 November 1725	Hejninge, Soro, Denmark
	Mrs. Hansen	about 1742	Hejninge, Soro., Den.
X	Jens Jensen	about 1721	of Leelti, Bloustrød, Frederiksborg, Den.
	Ane Poulsdatter	about 1727	Huninge,, Denmark
	[Unknown]
	[Unknown Name]

The data is incorrect as shown, Jens Jensen was born in Hejninge, Soro, Denmark, which is one of the many places listed for the second person, but the wife is correct.

14. Find Ane Marie Andersen, mother of Kirsten Hansen (#10 above). There has been a lot of research done on her line and I will work on making sure that is what the family sees on the new FamilySearch.

The parents of Ane Marie Andersen

	Anders Jensen	1751	Tolstrup, Skanderborg, Denmark
	Edel Andersen	1751	Raadved, Skndrb,, Denmark
X	And Pind	about 1750	of Ottestrup, Soro, Dnmr
	Maren hansdatter	1746	„, Prob Denmark
	And Pind	about 1750	of Ottestrup, Soro, Dnmr
	Margretha Jensen	about 1754	of Ottestrup, Soro, Dnmr
	Anders Sorensen	1742	Sonder, Nedley, Denmark
	Maren hansdatter	1746	„, Prob Denmark
	And Pind	about 1750	of Ottestrup, Soro, Dnmr
	Margretha Jensen

His name is really Anders Jensen Pind, but this is close enough for now. The Pind name goes back about 6 more generations.

That is it for now. Most of these do require you and everyone in the family to find and select the correct set of parents. A few, as noted, are OK, but if at some point the order of the possible parents in the list gets changed or some other parents get added to the list, the correct one may not continue to be the one you see as you go into the pedigree chart on new FamilySearch.

So far, I have not found these kinds of problems in the non-Danish lines. I believe that the way the common names are so often used, and the patronymics confuse things as well - that is probably why this is the case. Also, our ancestry has been known for so many generations and so many family members have turned in 4-generation sheets, so the Ancestral File has many, many duplicates with slight differences. Something I can do if you are interested, is to perhaps print up a copy of what I have for direct line pedigree charts and family group records for some of you so key family members and see for themselves what the lines are supposed to look like. Also, I am sure that many of you have some collection of pedigree charts, etc., so mine may yet differ from yours. I expect that some questions may come up as to the veracity of my records and I expect to do some continuing research in microfilm records to help correct these errors. Correcting them in new.familysearch.org, however will be another task.
